Democrats Will Cooperate While Dulles Is Sick

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Democrats promised today a full measure of cooperation with the Eisenhower administration on foreign policies during Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' illness.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said after a conference with Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) of the Foreign Relations Committee that Democrats will do everything they can to help keep administration foreign policies intact.

"It will be the policy of the majority to advise and consult with the administration in every possible way in an attempt to help them develop a strong, positive foreign policy," Johnson said.

Sens. John Sparkman (D-Ala.) and Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.), other members of the committee, made similar pledges in separate interviews.

Dulles, in Walter Reed Army Hospital, starts this week a series of radiation treatments for cancer. The new malignancy, announced Saturday, was discovered after a hernia operation. Dulles had undergone the day before.

The State Department said Sunday that Dulles' condition "continues satisfactory." During the day the secretary talked for about 15 minutes with Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter.

Herter, returning Saturday night from a South Carolina vacation, told newsmen he would accept appointment as secretary of state if President Eisenhower asked him to.

Eisenhower said Saturday that Dulles would continue on the leave of absence he obtained to undergo the operation and said "I will, of course, be in close with him constantly."

Dulles' doctors, meantime, gave him a fighting chance to recover enough from the cancer to remain on the job at least part time. They took the view it is still too early to tell what course Dulles' illness may take, especially in a man of his strength and will power.

Although Dulles will be "in" for a month, he resumed a full work schedule after a cancer operation in 1956 and has battled off other illnesses since then.

Although Dulles' illness "will complicate preparations for several Allied conferences this spring and for eventual negotiations with the Soviet Union there was no indication it would bring any change in U. S. policy."

Vice President Richard M. Nixon said in San Francisco Sunday that the Eisenhower-Dulles policy, which he described as "firmness on principle and flexibility on tactics," will continue.

If Dulles does not respond sufficiently to treatment and it becomes necessary for Eisenhower to replace him, some high ranking Democrat in Congress indicate they hope his successor will be C. Douglas Dillon, under secretary for economic affairs.

Ten Persons Killed in Texas Wreck

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

ALAMO, Tex. (AP) — Ten persons were killed on a state highway Sunday in a shattering automobile crash that jammed the speedometer on one vehicle at 80 m.p.h.

Four of the dead were children. The head-on collision occurred seven miles south of here in the Lower Rio Grande Valley, practically on the Texas-Mexico border.

Muddy rescue workers pried and tugged for more than an hour to remove nine bodies from one crumpled automobile.

Highway patrolman M. L. Dailey said the speedometer on the car of John T. Cloney, a father of eight, was struck at 80 miles per hour. Cloney was traveling east and the other car west, Dailey said.

Details of the crash, which killed every occupant of the two cars, were meager. Tom Handy, a nearby resident, said he stepped onto his porch about the time they collided.

"It just happened so fast. . . all I knew was that one car was going east and one west," Handy said.

Domingo Cantu, Handy's neighbor, said he "heard something go boom real loud."

J. D. Johnson, 42, Dies at His Home Near Columbus

Peace Talks Over Cyprus Underway

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of all factions in the Cyprus dispute conferred today in preparation for their conference to work out a peace agreement.

The major contenders all were in London and apparently confident that agreement would be reached at the conference starting Tuesday. It is expected to produce a constitution that will make Cyprus an independent republic, ending 81 years of British rule over the strategic island in the Mediterranean.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd met with Foreign Ministers Evangelos Averof of Greece and Stefan Rustu Zorlu of Turkey. Colonial Secretary Alan Lennox-Boyd and Sir Hugh Foot, the British governor of Cyprus, also were present.

Archbishop Makarios, the leader of the Greek Cypriot campaign to end British control of the island, met with other Greek Cypriot leaders, and then received Foot at his hotel.

Garden Club Always Helps Worthy Cause

Daffodil Garden Club will hold its annual pancake supper from 5:30 to 8 p. m. Friday in the high school cafeteria. In the past five years the club has averaged about $400.

This money is always used for a worthy cause. In 1955 the group furnished a room at Hempstead Memorial Hospital. In 1956-57 the club purchased equipment to be used in the class for exceptional children and the money left over was used to pay the salary of the class teacher this year. In 1958 the group helped redecorate the Youth Center and this year the money will go to the proposed Boy Scout Center.

Six Perish in Indiana House Fire

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — A mother returned home early Sunday to find rescue workers carrying the bodies of six of her children and her mother from the ruins of a fire.

A seventh child, Queen Esther Pittman, 6, survived when her grandmother told her to run out of the flaming house.

The victims were Mrs. Mary Reeves, 50, and her grandchildren, Wilbur Parker, 10; Terry Parker, 8; Harold Pittman, 7; Laurel Pittman, 3; Jeannie Pittman, 18 months, and Mary Elizabeth Pittman, 6 months.

The mother, Amelia Parker, 50, said she was visiting in South Bend. She returned an hour and a half after the fire had destroyed the four-room concrete block home one mile west of here.

Leslie Parker, father of the older children, was reported somewhere in Michigan.

The little girl who survived said the fire started when burning coals popped out of a heating stove onto a pile of paper.

Sergni Takes Over Italian Government

ROME (AP) — Antonio Segni was sworn in today as head of Italy's government.

His Cabinet was made up entirely of members of his own Christian Democrat party, which has less than a majority in Parliament. Promised right-wing support from Liberals and Monarchists made Segni virtually sure of winning at least his first vote of confidence, probably within a week.

President Giovanni Gronchi swore Segni into office after approving his cabinet lineup.

Little Rock in Parking Ticket Fuss

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A dispute between Little Rock city officials over parking tickets has, in its latest development, caught the ticket-writers in the middle.

Traffic Judge Robert Lester said yesterday he had sent a letter to Police Chief Eugene Smith, telling him that policemen who issue overtime parking tickets to jurors on court witness will be subject to arrest by warrant of the court.

The fight began last week when Lester asked Smith to honor immunity cards the judge gave to jurors and witnesses. The wind shield cards would permit overtime parking in the vicinity of the Pulaski County Courthouse.

No, said City Manager Dean Dauley, and ordered officers to ignore the cards. Dauley said Lester could dismiss the violations when the jurors and witnesses appeared in court, if he so desired.

Lester said his letter was mailed Saturday and Smith said he had not yet received it.

Government Is Costing More, More Each Year

By LEON HATCH

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Back in the depression days of a quarter century ago, it seemed to the Legislature and the people that two and one-half million dollars ought to be enough to operate the state government for two years.

Now that inflation has replaced depression, more than two and one-half millions is involved in one appropriations bill.

The contracts has been emphasized by the current legislative session over the general appropriations bill, which calls for the allotment of $2,968,78 for the state's constitutional offices for a two-year period.

A three-fourths vote of both legislative branches will be necessary to pass that one bill. So far backers haven't gotten a simple majority, much less three-fourths.

No other appropriation bill may become law until the general appropriations measure is adopted.

With the economy minded J. M. Pittrell in the governor's office, the Legislature in 1933 proposed a constitutional amendment designed to put the brakes on governmental spending.

The proposal was adopted at the 1934 general election by a vote of 99,223 to 25,499 and became Amendment 19.

One section of Amendment 19 reads:

"Exceeding monies raised or collected for educational purposes, highway purposes, to pay Confederate pensions and the just debts of the state, the General Assembly is hereby prohibited from appropriating or expending more than the sum of two and one-half million dollars for all purposes for the biennial period; provided, the limit herein fixed may be exceeded by the votes of three-fourths of the members elected to each House of the General Assembly."

In short, two and one-half million dollars was to be the limit for the ordinary expenses of running the state government for any two-year period — a limit that was exceeded only by the agreement of three-fourths of the legislators.

The exceptions — education, highways, pensions and debts — were considered as ordinary operational expenses.

The two and one-half million dollar limit soon became outdated. Customarily it has been no trouble to muster the three-fourths majority necessary to pass appropriation bills after the constitutional mark was reached. This year the situation obviously is different.

Amendment 19 also specifies Continued on Page Two

West Proposes a Wide Open Germany Meet, Warns of War Danger

Move Designed to Counter a Soviet Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States, Britain and France bluntly warned the Soviet Union today against the danger of launching off a world war over Berlin. They called for a wide open Big Four foreign ministers' meeting this spring to discuss the whole German problem with German advisers present.

The Western powers would like the conference to open in late April or early May at Geneva for Vienna. The Soviet Union has threatened to pull out of East Berlin on or after May 27 and the West fears this may jeopardize the allied position in West Berlin.

"The danger to world peace is inherent in this Soviet initiative," is evident," the note released by the State Department said.

The U. S. message paralleled others sent by Britain and France. It said the foreign ministers' meeting should deal "with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications" — meaning such things as German unity and the future of Berlin.

As the note was delivered, Secretary of State Dulles said the conference would be held in the city of Geneva. He said the foreign ministers' meeting should deal "with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications" — meaning such things as German unity and the future of Berlin.

IN PHOTO left to right: Sheriff Jimmy Griffin, Hernando Gomez of the Republic of Colombia, and Diamond Cafe Proprietor Bert Rettig, posed in front of Hope Police Station Sunday night. GOMEZ, 21, from the town of Chiriqui in Colombia, at the north end of South America, rode into Hope Sunday on a bicycle jaunt which he expects to take him to New York City to study aviation. He left his home town August 6, 1958, and is pedaling about 160 miles a day.

THAT HE IS getting along is testified by the fact that his passport was stamped by the U. S. Immigration Office at Brownsville, Texas, on February 9 — and Brownsville is at the extreme southern tip of the Texas Gulf Coast.

GOMEZ SPEAKS no English, and The Star editor had a little trouble fixing that rate of 160 miles a day on a bicycle. At first Gomez mentioned the figure "600 a day," but then an interpreter explained he was talking about kilometers — a kilometer being five-eighths of a mile. That still figured just under 200 miles a day, and after further calculation Gomez settled for an average of 160.

WHEN HE LEFT home Gomez had a nickel. Now he has $2, and got another $2 of the editor's money — being as he was headed for New York and not for Washington, the editor feeling there are already too many people in Washington. The Hope police and the Sheriff's Department treated him hospitably and he had a good meal at Rettig's Diamond Cafe and put up at Snyder Hotel.

THE SPANISH interpreter was Mrs. Louise Martin of Hope.

Extra Session of Legislature Is Speculated

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Amid speculation that it might have to stay over in a special session after the regular session end, the 62nd General Assembly moves into its sixth week of work today.

Speculation about a special session centered on the stalled general appropriations bill, a measure which under the constitution must be passed before the rest of the money measures can go through.

The bill has been defeated in both House and Senate, primarily over objections to several proposed increases in allotments to agencies of the executive, judicial and legislative branches of state government.

Special session talk might be premature, however: The 1957 legislature didn't pass the general appropriations bill until just a few days before adjournment; this session still has some three weeks to go.

Still to be acted upon are three bills aimed at raising money for the Highway Department, two of which backed by Gov. Orval Faubus called it the "painful way" to raise needed road money but said "the painful way is often the best way."

An alternate money-raising measure, through a five million dollar bond issue and a weight-distance tax on busses and trucks also is pending in the Senate.

The ticklish question of university status for Arkansas State College at Jonesboro has yet to be resolved by the legislature. The Senate approved it by a narrow margin, and the bill making the change has not been brought up in the House.

Negro Arrested for Assault

Saturday night City Officers Rowe and Shirley filed aggravated assault charges against L. May Order Cities to More Sewers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — A decision on whether to order three South Arkansas cities to build more sewer facilities is expected to be made at a meeting of the Arkansas Water Pollution Commission here today.

El Dorado, Smackover and Stephens are involved. Spokesman for the cities contended at a hearing held January 27 that it would be a financial hardship if they were forced to construct additional facilities to dispose of waste now polluting the Ouachita River and its tributaries.

Commission Director M.L. Wood said that federal aid is available to help finance sewage treatment plants. The cities could provide 70 per cent of the cost and the government would put up the rest, he said.

Wood held that the cities were in the same position as oil field operators, who have been directed by the commission to stop dumping salt water into the Ouachita and its tributaries within five years.

that "In making appropriations for any biennial period, the General Assembly shall first pass the general appropriation bill provided for in Section 30 of Article 5 of the Constitution and no other appropriation bill may be enacted before that shall have been done."

That is the requirement which makes it imperative that Legislature settle its present differences before any other appropriation measures can be enacted into law. Article 5, section 30 of the Constitution defines the general appropriation bill as containing "nothing but appropriations for the ordinary expense for the executive, legislative and judicial departments of the state and such other appropriations shall be made by separate bills, each embracing but one subject."

The offices and agencies included in the section are those provided for in the Constitution — those of the governor, lieutenant governor, attorney general, treasurer and commissioner, auditor, the Supreme Court and chancery courts and prosecuting attorneys.

Prescott B&PW Club Holds Valentine Party

Prescott Business and Professional Women's Club held a Valentine party on Tuesday night at 7 in the social hall of the First Christian Church. Hostesses were Miss Elizabeth Francisco, Mrs. Bert Wingfield, Mrs. C. O. Wahlgren, Mrs. Mildred Dawson, Miss Fay Loomis and Mrs. Aileen Bryson. Long V-shaped tables, covered in white, were decorated with ivy interspersed with small valentines over a wide red band along the center of the table, and on each table was a beautiful arrangement of red, pink and green. Prizes were given for the best valentine, candy buffet and green. At the base of the V, a small table held an improvised mailbox entwined with greenery with a red cupid standing by. Red hearts were cut, placing one piece in the mail box, and the other piece marking the place at the table which had to be matched. Mrs. Robbie Wilson, president, opened the meeting and prayer was offered by Mrs. E. B. Johnson, followed by a short business session. Mrs. Elizabeth Wilson was welcomed as a new member. After several party games a valentine contest was held using the names of wives of prominent men whose valentine was to be selected. Prizes went to Miss Sue Martin, Mrs. Imogene Davis and Mrs. Vernice Hubbard. Another amusing game was played with large balls of twine and Geneva or alternatively in Vienna. Officials said they also thought late April or early May would be the best time to start.

The note released at the State Department here said:

"The U.S. government is prepared to participate in a conference of the ministers of foreign affairs of the U.S.S.R., France, the United Kingdom and the United States, and is ready to consider any suggestions as to a date and place, which would be fixed by mutual agreement. The place and date should be settled through diplomatic channels."

"The conference should deal with the problem of Germany in all its aspects and implications."

"The aspects which would be dealt with include such immediate issues as the Western demand for reunification of Germany, the Soviet plan to oust the Western powers from Berlin and to make a peace treaty with the two halves of Germany, and other issues relating to Germany such as broad adoption of the European security and of the possibility of disengagement of Soviet and Western forces in central Europe."

"The Western powers told the Soviets that if the Communists try to cut the lines of the Western powers into Berlin 'the danger to world peace' should be evident. And, once again, as in an earlier note on Dec. 31, the U.S., British and French governments asserted their determination 'to uphold by all appropriate means their communications with their sectors of Berlin.'"

West Germany upheld the position of the Western powers in a parallel note, officials here said, but technically the proposal of an East-West meeting comes from the three powers which have occupation rights in Germany along with the Soviet Union.

Russia's Jan. 10 proposal for a 28-nation conference to write a German peace treaty got a brush-off. The Western notes were a re-

Auburn to Get Stiff Test in Kentucky

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What happens when college basketballs only major unbeaten team plays a road game against a school that has lost only six of 18 home games in the last 16 years?

The answer comes when Auburn, the invincible, plays Kentucky, the mighty, in the Wildcats' lair at Lexington Saturday night.

With the cooperation of much-whipped Tulane tonight, Auburn will take a 30-game unbeaten string into the showdown of night against Adolph Rupp's precision-coached gang. By way of warming up for it, Kentucky has nailed its last 23 home games dating back to a loss in the Kentucky Invitational to West Virginia Dec. 20, 1957.

Within a week, there ought to be a pretty good indication of how the ball seems to be bouncing for the two big tournaments — the NCAA and the National Invitation — next month.

Auburn, at home against Tulane tonight and at its peak after thrashing LSU in a school record 115-87, turkey-shot, figures to carry an 11-0 Southeastern Conference slate against Kentucky. If Kentucky hurdles its Wednesday date with Vanderbilt, the Cats will be 9-2. With those two losses, Kentucky may wind up no better than third in the SEC behind Auburn and, once beaten, Mississippi State.

But because of Auburn's NCAA probation and the custom that prohibits Mississippi universities from competing against teams with Negroes, Kentucky may still get the nod to represent the conference in the NCAA tournament. Rupp Co. bagged for the fourth time last year.

St. Louis is at Bradley tonight in the second part of their home-and-home duel to decide the challenger to Cincinnati in the Missouri Valley Conference. St. Louis, riding a 14-game winning streak with its 16-2 record, took the first one last week but still trails Cincinnati by a game.

Kansas State can clinch at least a tie for the Big Eight title and another NCAA appearance with victories over Oklahoma tonight and over Oklahoma State Saturday afternoon.

On Wednesday, ACC titans North Carolina and North Carolina State have a rematch. Tau Tau Huls—who won the first duel—as the home club this time. On Saturday, Princeton plays at Dartmouth in the opener of a home-and-home set that will decide the Ivy championship. In the Skyline, front-running Utah takes to the road to try to wrap up its NCAA berth—meeting runner up Denver

Thursday and New Mexico Saturday. And on the Coast, California is on the road against Washington State Friday and Idaho Saturday trying to hold its edge over Washington in the PCC.

A heavy week it is and one that begins with a big Monday with other pairings like: Michigan State at Northwestern, Indiana at Purdue, Mississippi State at Georgia, VMI at West Virginia, Xavier (Ohio) at Western Kentucky, Southern California at Washington, Oklahoma City at Florida State and St. Bonaventure at Providence.

Girls, Juniors Enter Tourney; Bobcats Win

Saturday night the Hope Bobcats defeated Arkadelphia there 52 to 57 to clip into a tie for second place in the district with Magnolia. Smackover continues to lead the district.

Hope's Juniors didn't fare so well at Arkadelphia, losing 51 to 52.

The local Juniors and Senior Girls go into district play this week at Gurdon. Wednesday night at 7:30 the Girls take on Nashville and at 8:30 Wednesday the Hope Juniors play Arkadelphia.

The Bobcats have two games this week. Friday night they go to Smackover for a game with the leaders and Saturday night they entertain Magnolia on the local court.

Baker Fights Hunter in Boxing Feature

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
Bob Baker, once the No. 1 challenger but now an unranked heavy will test newcomer Billy Hunter of Detroit in the Monday night boxing feature at St. Nicholas Arena in New York.

"Baker has fought them all, building up a 51-14-1 record, but he has faltered at the last hurdle time after time. Now he's back among the also-rans."

Hunter scored a flashy knock-out in a Madison Square Garden prelim a few weeks ago. His record is 11-5-1 for 17 fights.

Sonny Liston, a Philadelphia heavyweight who has trouble getting opponents, faces Mike DeJohn another ranked boxer, Wednesday in Miami Beach, Fla.

Liston has a fine 22-1 record, losing only to Marty Marshall in 1954 and reversing that with a knockout in a rematch.

DeJohn, a big boy from Syracuse, N.Y., owns a 36-3-1 record. The heavyweight fight will be seen on ABC television.

Gene Fullmer, world middleweight champion from Jan. 2, 1957 to May 1, 1957, faces a fast-charging young prospect Friday at Madison Square Garden when he takes on Willie Greaves of Edmonton, Alberta and Detroit.

Fullmer has won eight straight since Sugar Ray Robinson knocked him out in their Chicago title rematch. Fullmer also scored a 10-round non-title decision over Greaves in Salt Lake City on Jan. 28, 1957.

Greaves has 12 straight victories. The fight will be carried on NBC radio-TV.

Thomas Says He'll Pass Seven Feet

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—John Thomas, who predicted today he will high jump 7 feet, 1½ inches in the National AAU Indoor Track and Field Championships Saturday.

No one in history ever has propelled himself that high—indoors or outdoors.

The world outdoor record is 7-1 by the Soviet Union's Yuriy Edinor for St. Petersburg.

The amazing 17-year-old Boston University freshman cleared an even 7-foot for the second time in three weeks in the New York Athletic Club Games in Madison Square Garden last Saturday and just did miss at 7-1½.

"But I think I'll do that at the AAU championships," said the 6-4½ Thomas. "I was disappointed that I didn't do it in the New York A.C. meet. I don't know what happened to me."

After clearing 7 feet (he's still the only man alive to make that height indoors) Thomas tried for 7-1. He missed all three tries but barely touched the crossbar on the second effort.

"I feel a lot better now than I've done 7 feet twice," he observed. "I don't feel so nervous about it."

Even if he never does beat 7 feet, Thomas says he is certain to be recognized by the AAU. When he jumped 7 feet for the first time in the Millrose met, officials forgot to measure the crossbar as required by the rules in the confusion.

This time, a whole horde of them raced to the bar soon as John went over. Tape measures appeared from all over. It definitely was official.

TCU Rolls to Commanding Lead in SWC

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

Texas Christian, on a shooting streak even its coach admits is phenomenal, rolls inexorably toward the Southwest Conference basketball championship.

This time, a whole horde of them raced to the bar soon as John went over. Tape measures appeared from all over. It definitely was official.

This is quite possible because SMU plays tough Texas Tech at Lubbock after first meeting Texas on the Methodist home court. The giant Horned Frogs—the team averages 6 feet, 5 inches per man—have won five straight games and shot 49.1 from the field.

Against Texas A&M last week they averaged 54.8. From outside the keyhole the Frogs flipped in 23 field goals in 51 tries.

Coach Buster Brannon says this is the best shooting he ever has had and wouldn't be surprised if it doesn't surpass anything the conference ever saw.

Last week found TCU whipping the Aggies 80-61 and Arkansas 70-71 to make its conference record 9-1.

Southern Methodist, staging a garrison finish, lashed Baylor 54-50 and Rice 60-57 and moved into second place with 6-3-2½ games back of the flying frogs.

TCU plays Rice at Fort Worth Wednesday night and Texas at Methodist on Saturday. Texas tomorrow night and Texas Tech Saturday.

Texas A&M just about ruined Texas Tech's chances last week as it beat the Red Raiders 53-52 while Baylor was suffering the same fate when it took that licking from Southern Methodist.

Rice beat Arkansas 68-62 to climb out of a tie for the cellar with Texas. Texas took a 70-51 trimming from Texas Tech and was beaten 60-58 by Baylor.

Baylor and Arkansas play at Fayetteville tomorrow while Texas A&M gets Arkansas at College Station Saturday, the same time that Baylor and Rice clash at Waco.

Prisoner Picks Jail Lock, Escapes

HOXIE, Ark. (AP)—A prisoner who picked a lock on his cell and escaped from the Hoxie jail was being sought today.

Police Chief Rufe Davis identified the man as Henry Abner, about 30, being held in connection with a bad check charge at Jonesboro.

Abner used a piece of wire to pick a lock and then crawled through a small window into Davis' office, where he took keys to a car belonging to another prisoner, Davis said. The car was parked outside the jail.

Sheriff's deputies and State Police were assisting in the search.

Liberace Is Coming Back to Television

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—"And then one day," said Walter Valentino Liberace, "I suddenly realized that according to the press I'd become a sort of phenomenon. And to me, being a phenomenon is the next thing to being a freak."

The pianist known to millions simply as Liberace was talking about a stage of his life he hopes is dead forever. At 36 he believes that "I am being accepted as I want to be, as a performer and a human being."

Liberace is a gentle mannered man, precise in his selection of language, carefully weighing the effects of his words, organizing his thoughts with extraordinary thoroughness. Talk with him for an hour and you will find that in manner, language and thought he displays none of the flamboyance that sometimes characterizes his performance as a musician.

"I feel," he said, "that I'm much more stable as an entertainer now and I know that I'm much happier as a person than I was in those days I now think of as days of white heat."

More than a year ago, he said, he awakened to the fact that "everything was becoming exaggerated. And the reputation for exaggeration demands more exaggerations—in clothes, in manner, even in salary. During that frenzied period all I did was to surround myself with hordes of people. It took me a while to work out of it."

What, asked a man, did he do? Fire his press agent?

"I didn't even have a press agent in those days," Liberace said, smiling. "But I knew that I had to do something after some elements of the press went to extremes of vulgarity in connection with me. I struck out and fought it. It was extremely distasteful to me, but now I'm glad that I did."

He said that a number of libel suits which he brought against various individuals and publications all had been settled favorably to him. Only one, in London, still is outstanding, and he is certain it will be settled in his favor.

"There was a time," he said, "when my performances used to be reviewed on the front pages of newspapers as something phenomenal. But I was delighted, after my new series opened on ABC, to find that my performances were reviewed where they should be—on the entertainment pages."

50 Hempstead Families Use FHA Credit

Modern farming methods have helped 50 Hempstead County farmers who are using Farmers Home Administration credit to increase their incomes substantially this year, the agency's county supervisor, W. M. Sparks, said.

The families are taking a second look at their year's progress, now that the harvest season is over and plans are taking shape for 1939 operations. This second look shows that improved farming practices that paid off this year include: proper insect control on cotton; vaccination for diseases; calthod vaccination for bangs; proper feeding for milk production and use of purebred sires.

Approximately five families purchased equipment and foundation livestock, needed to increase the efficiency of their operations. Four families used their loans this past year to improve farms. Four built or repaired houses or other farm buildings. Complete soil conservation plans have been worked out on 30 of the farms with the help of Soil Conservation Service technicians. In addition, approximately 18 of these borrowers repaid their loans in full during the past year and are now obtaining the credit they need from banks or other lenders.

Mr. Sparks pointed out that the improvements result from good farm management planning, and that the loans help the operators put the plans into effect. The Farmers Home Administration is emphasizing the farm management advisory phase of county supervisors' work. To keep abreast of modern farming methods and management, the supervisors in Arkansas attended special refresher courses conducted by Extension Specialists. Mr. Sparks attended such a course at Hope, Arkansas.

U. S. transportation ships returning from the Persian Gulf in World War II found bales of valuable Oriental rugs excellent for ballast for the empty ships. Previously they had used sand.

U. S. War Department expenditures during 1939-41 were $632,804. In 1944 and 1945 they were 50 billion dollars each year.

Yield Floor

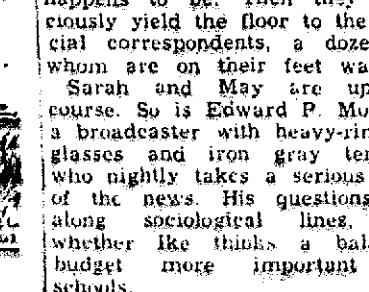

Then the ritual starts in earnest. Ike has a couple of things to offer about how we all need John Foster Dulles, who is ill with hernia, and about his concern for St. Louis, which got hit by a tornado.

The wire service reporters, whose retiring nature and reluctance to exercise their priority in such matters is the talk of the press room, throw a few businesslike questions on Berlin, schools, or whatever the crisis happens to be. Then they graciously yield the floor to the special correspondents, a dozen of whom are on their feet waiting.

Sarah and May are up of course. So is Edward P. Morgan, a broadcaster with heavy-rimmed glasses and iron gray temples who nightly takes a serious view of the news. His questions run along sociological lines, like whether Ike thinks a balanced budget more important than schools.

Over east by the barn, faint through the rustle of the storm, came a man's startled challenge, followed closely by two flailing hands and a rifle crashed—on the heels of these a rifle crashed—on the heels of these a rifle crashed—

After which silence held for a space until Alec Trezevant's old buffalo Sharps again rumbled at the ranchhouse.

Yeager wanted to call again to Jid Mirrs, to get answer from him, but knew this wouldn't do. For wherever the two skulkers were, they'd have to return for their horses. But should he chance waiting for them where he was, or should he go looking for them? Even as he pondered this, it was answered for him.

A man charged up through the dark, panting heavily, and cursing the dull, mechanical way that told of uncertainty and mounting fear. The horses wheeled away at this headlong approach and the man's cursing pitched higher as he directed it at the uneasy animals.

Sensing, rather than actually seeing the position of the fellow Yeager threw a sharp word at him. "You—!"

The man whirled, gasping audibly, and drove a blind shot which battered the shed wall high on to one side of Yeager. With that gun flash to guide its pointing, Yeager's rifle now smashed back its answer, and it belted a strangled groan from a mortally stricken target.

The two horses, thoroughly spooked now by the flaming guns so close to them, plunged off dragging grounded reins. Yeager levered another cartridge home in his rifle and waited—and waited—

There was no sound now except for the wall of the wind about the corners of buildings, and the splash of rain sheeting down from gorged eaves. Shooting had stopped everywhere. But presently a long shout came in from the outer dark.

"Starker—Mitch Starker! Hey—Mitch—answer up!"

There was no answer, and the same call came in again. Still no answer, and then there was no further calling, nor shouting, and slowly the conviction came to Yeager that for this night at least, assault was done.

Yonder was the bunkhouse and against the dark mass of this there was shifting movement by the two horses that had spooked that way. Just a few steps away there was a huddle of dark shadows against the still darker earth, and Yeager moved slowly up to it. The huddle was a man, doubled and still. Yeager dropped to one knee, peered closely. The man was a stranger and he was dead.

In the final dark moment before dawn broke, he and this man had faced each other, total strangers, and traded shots. Now the man lay dead, another squall of rain, and the cattle grazed to the land and cattle grazed.

ANNIVERSARY CABIN—An exact replica of the log cabin in which Abraham Lincoln was born is constructed by U. S. Army engineers in Frankfurt, West Germany. The structure, commemorating the 150th anniversary of Lincoln's birth, adjoining the Amerika Haus, a free library making information about the United States available to Germans. The cabin will be open to the public for several months after the birthday celebration. Later it will be moved to a permanent site in the nearby Taunus Mountains.

LONDON, April 17.—(AP)—The British government today announced that it had received information from a reliable source that the German government had decided to accept the terms of the League of Nations pact for the settlement of the Rhineland question.

Having run down the Cape Verde Islands, the British fleet, under the command of Admiral Sir Samuel Hood, is now en route to the West Indies, where it will remain for two days before proceeding to the Caribbean Sea.

Summit House Hotel. At the hotel bar he bought some cigars from Bill Spelle, and, after lighting one, asked his question.

"Brick Rand still with you, Bill?"

"Yeah," answered Spelle. "And," added the hotel owner bluntly, "I wish he wasn't. Taking care of him is a nuisance. He has to be fed soup through a tube. Never saw such a change in a man. When Gil Yeager gave him a man going over, he busted more in Rand than just his jaw. He busted Rand's spirit. You know how Rand used to be. Arrogant, sure of himself, heavy with his hands, heavy with his tongue. Well, that's all gone. Now he seems all shrunk up in a funny way, as if all his insides had left him."

"Can he talk?"

"Kind of mumbles. Doc Farris has got his face tied up pretty solid. You want to see him?"

Hyatt nodded. "It's all right with you."

"Help yourself. Room 8."

There was a lamp on the room's small table. It was turned low and the resultant scant light only partly disclosed the face of the man in the bed. Even so, Klint Hyatt saw enough to startle him: he lower half of Brick Rand's face was massed with bandages, but above this his eyes were sunken, feverishly bright and staring in a strange, wild way.

At a glance, Klint Hyatt understood what Bill Spelle had meant. Brick Rand was an unstable shadow fleeing from mental terror.

"Brick," said Hyatt, "I'm looking for information and I'm pretty sure you can give it to me. I'm looking for the name of the man who killed Cress Lucas."

Brick Rand gave a start and his staring glance shifted. Muffled words came from between the folds of his bandage.

"Yeager killed Lucas."

Klint Hyatt sighed. "I was afraid I'd have to get tough with you, Brick. You know that Shad Emmett swore false witness, and that he now gives Yeager a clear alibi. And you know who killed Lucas. Maybe you did, Brick. Which is Judge Carmody's theory. And the more I think of it, the more I think it's a pretty good one."

Brick Rand did not answer.

"There is an old theory, and a sound one," went on Hyatt remorselessly, "that silence is refusal to answer—is an admission of guilt. So I'm arresting you, Brick—for the murder of Cress Lucas. I'll have a bed fixed up for you in the jail."

"All right, Ollie-Led killed Lucas," came the mumbled admission.
